Traverse Hospital To Hold "Open House"

In keeping with National Mental Health Week, which will be observed this year from April 28th to May 4th, Traverse City State Hospital is again having Open House.

Tuesday, April 30th, is being set aside especially for school groups, with Friday, May 3rd, for the general public. Tours of the hospital will be conducted from 8 o'clock to 4 and 7 to 9 in the evening on these two days.

Another special feature of this year's National Mental Health Week and Traverse City's special efforts in this area will be PRO BATE JUDGES WORKSHOP, which is to be held on Thursday, May 2nd. This should prove to be a very helpful and interesting workshop for probate judges, sheriffs, and other law enforcement agencies, social agencies and anyone else interested in the problems of mental illness. Most of these agencies are being contacted by letter; however, if a letter does not reach you and you wish to attend, you should write a card, giving your name and title to Mr. C. J. Curries, Community Relations Department, Box C, Traverse City, State Hospital.

There's more to be proud of in this one!

You'll be proud of Chevy's sweet, smooth and sassy way of going. And you'll take extra pride in Chevy's look of substance and character, its careful construction, its fine finishing touches you don't find in other low-priced cars. For one thing, the others don't have Body by Fisher. For another, they can't hold a candle to Chevy when it comes to performance. Chevrolet, you know, won the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona Beach as "best performing U. S. automobile." Automotive experts decided that. But you agree with them once you stop by your dealer's and drive a new Chevrolet yourself! Soon maybe?

Driver Days

Veteran of sixty years of water well drilling in Crawford and adjoining counties, Augustus Funck started the 1957 season on Monday April 15 with a new Cyclone drill rig, the most up-to-date water well equipment available, which he will operate in connection with the Grayling Electric and Heating Company owned by his sons, Robert and Edwin.

Starting in 1936, Mr. Funck's first outfit consisted of a home-made, two-legged wooden derrick with a "one-horse-power motor," the one live, four-footed horse being driven around and around, treadmill fashion, to supply the needed power. A do-it-yourself man from away back, Mr. Funck was his own blacksmith, building all his own equipment and keeping it in repair until he acquired his first "store-bought" rig in 1908, a cumbersome affair that required three trips with cart and two horses to get it moved and set up at the site of a prospective well.

One after another the wells went down in Grayling, Roscommon and Higgins Lake, and as far away as Kalkaska, Atlanta and Mio. One after another, bigger and better rigs were evolved from the 1908 model, the resourceful pioneer driller still doing all the remodeling himself, improving, building, even "inventing" new parts for specific situations. Finally, after nearly fifty years, Mr. Funck decided that the Jet Age required jet-age equipment, namely the Cyclone whose tall yellow derrick was seen during the Trade Show at the Grayling Electric lot on Monday, April 15, the derrick was lowered and the colorful red and yellow rig made its maiden voyage down M-72 to the Feldhauser Bridge where the first well of the season was put down to the Howlett cabin.

LAMBERT - OWEN VOWS EXCHANGED

Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church, Detroit, Michigan, was the scene of a wedding ceremony Friday morning at 10:00 a. m., April 15, 1957.

Mr. Ray Owen and Mrs. Ethel Lambert were married by Dr. Luther W. Slifer. Mrs. Jesse Schmidt of Grayling, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Mr. Ray Warner, nephew of the groom was best man. The couple will make their home at 634 W. Philadelphia Ave., Detroit.

A luncheon was held at the Golden Pheasant Tea Room following the ceremony. Later a reception for 75 friends and relatives was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson at 18137 Snow Rd., Dearborn. Those from Grayling attending were: Mrs. Holger Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Owen.

Plan Canadian Canoe Trips For Local Boys

A Canadian canoeing and fishing trip is in prospect for a group of Grayling area boys this summer. An expedition is being organized by Jerry T. Gambill, former Saginaw YMCA camp director. He is now director of Wilderness Outpost, an outfitting service.

The Grayling area is one of 44 community groups in Michigan which will be taking trips in 1957. Parents or boys may obtain further information by writing to the Outpost at 613 S. Carolina, Saginaw.

Any boy in the 9-12 grade is eligible to apply for the trip. He must be a fair swimmer, but no previous canoeing experience is necessary. Cost of the trip varies with length, but a five-day trip is $25, and a seven-day trip is $33, for example. The fee includes all expenses, excepting transportation.

The Grayling youths will be divided into units of five. Each unit will be assigned a trained and experienced leader, as well as canoe, packs, ponchos, cookeats and other gear. Boys need to bring only bedrolls and fishing tackle. Each boy is also issued a fishing license and a $2,000 sickness and accident insurance policy. Quality food in ample quantity is packed for each unit.

The trip area is 150 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie in an area accessible only by railroad or sea plane. The local fellows will choose a route from the numerous rivers, chains of lakes, and Hudson Bay trading routes.

Lake Margrethe Water Level

(Information furnished by U. S. Geological Survey)
Period of record, Nov. 12, 1942 to date:

Water level April 18, '57 1133.96 ft.
Water level April 19, '56 1134.18 ft.
Maximum level for period of record April 5, '43 — 1135.39 ft.
Minimum level for period of record Sept. 24-27, '48 — 1133.57 ft.
Wind-whipped waves smashed the last field of ice in Lake Margrethe late last Friday afternoon. The lake is now completely free of its winter-long hard, cold mantle.

Charge Some Justices Making A Racket Of Their Elected Job

ANOTHER LOOK AT Michigan's justice of the peace machinery occurred when Francis E. Barron, a Howell attorney, recently charged that JP's often conduct a "racket system" to collect fines and costs.

The justice of the peace operation has been controversial previously. Usually the issue involved is whether these elected officials are qualified to administer their jobs properly.

The new charges take a different tack. In a letter to State Bar Association President John W. Lemurray, Barron took issue with the fact that some justices seem to make "too good" a living pursuing the duties of their offices.

Particularly singled out are two outland County JP's, Willis D. Leary of Waterford Township and Allen C. Ingle of Farmington Township. Both these men earned more than $25,000 from their share of fees last year.

Leary's net developed from charges made by the Automobile Club of Michigan that Waterford Township police are conducting a "speed trap" along the busy Dixie Highway between Pontiac and Flint.

Last year's tickets produced more than $100,000 income for Waterford Township. Leary's share reached $33,202.10, AAA says.

"In my opinion, such courts are not courts at all, but merely a racket system for collecting fines and costs for the benefit of the justice and the township," Barron wrote in his letter.

This left the next move up to the State Bar. Officials of that group indicated that the charge would be carefully considered in its committees.

JULIE HARRIS, EDGAR Guest, Governor Williams—These are all familiar names to Michigan residents.

Today, stories of Michigan actresses, poets, politicians and others who achieved success in their chosen fields are available for the asking. Recognizing that today's "names in the news" will be part of Michigan's history tomorrow, the State Library in Lansing embarked on a project to preserve personal biographies for future generations.

Some 1,000 biographies are already on file. Each is prepared by the personality himself. Each covers both personal material, and human interest sidelights that are often lost when a generation dies. The library sends a form directly to "picked" personalities. This includes information and photographs of historical importance.

The collection is more than a Michigan "Who's Who." The goal is to preserve records direct from persons who have contributed to Michigan's development. A look through the biographies on file discloses many names not generally known—and many not recorded elsewhere.

The unique project began two years ago on a small scale. At first the library collected information only on elected state officials. Then the staff turned its attention to Michigan authors.

Now, under the direction of Mrs. Esther Laughlin the scope of the collection is enlarged. Names are secured through mention in newspapers, from directories and from suggestions of people throughout the state.

That's where you can help. Suggestion of additional names are welcomed by Mrs. Laughlin. Persons in business, in sciences, the arts, education and in every field are needed.

Send your suggestions to Mrs. Esther Laughlin at the Michigan State Library, 125 E. Shawwassee St., Lansing.

ould the country editors of this nation vote on public questions if they were in their Congresses? The American Press, which is an independent magazine for hometown newspapers, decided at by means of a survey. In its March issue it is the results, tabulated from the replies of 794 editors, representing every section of the country, in brief form, are some of the questions and "No Answer" replies are not included in this issue, hence the percentages do not total 100.)

ould the President have the authority to use troops in the Middle East if he deems it necessary Communist aggression? The "Yes" faction has overwhelming majority—71 per cent to 27 per cent.

ould foreign aid (which has been running at $4 billion annual rate) be increased, decreased, or maintained at the same amount? Only 6 per cent of editors say more, while 63 per cent say less and 26 per cent favor the same amount.

ould John Foster Dulles continue as Secretary of State? Mr. Dulles is given a vote of confidence—57 per cent to 38 per cent.

ould farm price supports be returned to the old level of parity? Only 22 per cent favor this, while 74 per cent opposed.

ould corporation taxes be moderately reduced, or returned to the rates of some years ago? This is a close one, with 32 per cent favoring reduction, 35 per cent favoring continuance of and 29 per cent endorsing reductions on the first $25,000 of profit.

ould corporations be exempt from taxation on dividends if they distribute as dividends on which individuals pay taxes—that is, should the amount of double taxation be eliminated? The vote is 28 per cent "Yes" to 28 per cent "No".

ould any budget surplus be applied to reducing the national debt? A big majority, 75 per cent, prefers to reduce the debt, as against 25 per cent favoring tax cuts.

ould the bill authorizing a minimum of $600 a year of federal money for school construction be passed? Here is another close one—45 per cent of editors say "Yes", and 53 per cent "No".

ould bills requiring that cooperatives and savings loan associations be subject to the same tax as other businesses be approved? The "Ayes" are in the majority.

have it, overwhelmingly—86 per cent to 12 per cent.

10. Should first-class postage rates be raised to 5 cents, along with the provision that air-mail would be used when possible? This proposal received a "No" majority of 60 per cent, as against 39 per cent saying "Yes".

11. Should the Vice-President be relieved of his job of presiding over the Senate, and given specific executive duties? The editors strongly favor this much-discussed possibility by a margin of 63 per cent to 33 per cent.

The American Press prints pages of comment from country editors on these and other issues. One thing is clear—whatever side or solution they favor, most of them have definite ideas and they don't hesitate to express them vigorously.

CONCRETE ROADS

Serve at Low Annual Cost

Concrete roads generally carry the heaviest traffic yet cost the least to maintain. Average maintenance costs from 24 state highway departments keeping such records show that concrete costs 26% to 59% less to maintain than other types of pavement.

Concrete has much longer service life than other pavements. First cost is moderate too. Concrete roads usually cost less to build than other pavements designed for the same traffic loads.

Yes, concrete's moderate first cost, low maintenance cost and extra long life give you low-annual-cost highway service for your gas taxes and license fees.

Report On Child Support Collections

Total alimony and support payments for the 34th Judicial Circuit for the year 1956 amounted to $116,018.08. This is a 15% increase, being $15,112.25 more than the 1955 total of $100,905.83 for the six counties of the Circuit.

The 1956 total is 211% greater ($78,733.00) than the 1951 collections of $37,284 when there was no Friend-of-the-Court.

The 1956 collections according to counties are as follows: Arenac, $14,931.12; Crawford, $16,552.50; Gladwin, $31,352.72; Ogemaw, $16,872.53; Otsego, $13,877.50; and Roscommon, $20,431.71. Practically all of this money is for the support of minor children of divorced parents, since there have been very few cases in the six counties where alimony has been granted to a divorced wife without children.

It is estimated that the office of the Friend-of-the-Court saved the relief agencies of the six counties for the year 1956, in 1956, the amount collected would otherwise have had to be paid out by the various welfare and assistance funds of the counties.

Since the appointment of a Friend of the Court in 1952, nearly a half million dollars has been collected and entered in the account books of the Friend of the Court.

A more detailed break-down of the collections in the six counties for the five years is herewith submitted.

Comparative figures on child support collections, 34th Judicial Circuit, 1951 - 1956.

Hunter Heads County For Democrat Dinner

Democrats have chosen Lawrence Hunter as Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Committee chairman for Crawford County, according to William P. Hull, general chairman of the Democratic fund raising affair.

Senator Wayne Morse, one of the nation's most prominent Democratic Senators will be the main speaker at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day event sponsored by the Democratic State Central Committee, Neil Staebler, Democratic State Chairman, announced.

The Dinner will be held May 18 in Detroit's Masonic Temple. Tickets are $25 single and $35 for husband and wife with the net proceeds shared equally by the State and National Democratic Committees, to be used to finance Party activities for the remainder of 1957.

1953, $70,323.14; increase $33,038.87 (46%).
3rd Year with Friend of Court, 1954, $97,723.73; increase $50,439.46 (155%).
4th Year with Friend of Court, 1955, $100,905.83; increase $983.
5th Year with Friend of Court, 1956, $116,018.08; increase $70,733.81 (211.17%).
